

NATIONAL INSTITUTE SAN RAMON /LA CORONA/ DIDACTIC PROGRAMMING"

TEACHER'S NAMES: KATLIN HERNANDEZ, LEONEL RAMOS, DANIA OSEGUEDA.

CREATED BY. LIC. DANIA ELIZABETH OSEGUEDA TINOCO MONTHS: June/July GRADE: 9th 2026

Cross-curricular theme: National and cultural Identity Competence: Participate in actions that promote the protection and conservation of environment and natural resources within family, school and community
Grade Competence: The student uses proper vocabulary and structures to interview other classmates or express unreal situations about animals they have, fear, or love when participating in class discussions and spontaneous conversations.
Unit	Achievement Indicator	Content	Evaluation Criteria	Date
UNIT III- ANIMALS AROUND US	The student: Analyzes specific information from texts and conversations in a variety of communicative situations in listening and reading forms	Vocabulary Motivation: ancestors, friends, relatives, experiences Grammar Second conditional (if I were you, I would study...) Speaking Motivation, relation, attention, action. Pronunciation Listening Recognizing famous characters around the world. Reading Reflecting about successful experiences Writing:: Descriptive paragraph: outline/Writing descriptive paragraph: about a successful character Language Functions Writing descriptive compositions	The student: 1. Recognizes vocabulary related to motivation (ancestors, friends, relatives, experiences). 2. Applies the second conditional correctly in speaking and writing to give advice and talk about different situations. 3. Participates actively in discussions about motivation and success	June 01st/12th
	The student: 1. Employs vocabulary and grammatical structure to express opinions related to animal's characteristic in written and oral language in different contexts.	Vocabulary 1 Farm, wild and insect Animals (spiders, snakes, goat, sheep, bats, rats, mouse, shark) Grammar 2.1 Present perfect (Jane has loved cats since she was a child.) Speaking.1 Talking about pets and farm animals Pronunciation Schwa in unstressed syllables. /ə/ a-ni-mal Listening 1 Listening for main ideas. Reading Getting meaning from context. Writing Opinion Paragraph Stating opinion phrases (I think, in my point of view, I believe that) Language Functions Providing positive ideas in discussions about animals and pets.	The student: 1. Recognizes vocabulary related to farm, wild, and insect animals (spiders, snakes, goat, sheep, bats, rats, mouse, shark). 2. Talks about pets, farm animals, wild animals, and insects in speaking activities. 3. Demonstrates responsibility in completing listening, reading, speaking, and writing activities.	June 15th/19th

2. Produces an opinion paragraph composition using phrases and language structures properly.	Vocabulary: 2 Adjectives (afraid of, scared of frightened of, endangered, poisonous, aggressive) Grammar Second conditional (If I saw a hungry dog, I would feed him) Speaking: Talking about phobias and wild animals. Pronunciation: “/s/- /z/- /iz/” sounds in regular plural nouns. Listening: Distinguishing schwa sound. Reading: Reading scientific articles to get main ideas and details. Writing: Writing Thesis statements: (I strongly believe that dogs are human’s best friends....) Language Functions: Understanding animals’ idioms in contexts.	The student: 1. Identifies main ideas and details in scientific articles. 2. Produces an opinion paragraph composition using appropriate phrases and language structures. 3. Works cooperatively in pair and group work.	June 22nd/July 03rd
Identifies the main ideas and details from reading or listening task in different communicative setting.	1. Vocabulary Animal Idioms (monkey around, pig out, Butterflies in one’s stomach, another fish to fry) Grammar 1.1 Present perfect (Jane has loved cats since she was a child.) Speaking Talking about phobias and wild animals. Listening Listening to lectures for getting specific information Reading Ordering information / Reading magazines to increase knowledge about animal care Writing Writing Thesis statements: (I strongly believe that dogs are human’s best friends....)	The student: Identifies the form and function of the Present Perfect tense (using since/for) and accurately defines the meaning of specific animal idioms within a reading or listening context. 2. Write a clear thesis statement expressing an opinion on animal preservation. 3. Demonstrates empathy and active listening when discussing phobias and wild animals with peers, while showing a responsible interest in animal care through active participation.	July 21st/24th
5.Demonstrates respect to others when sharing good practices to take care of the environment	vocabulary Animal Care (pet shop, house-trained, zoo, feed, stroke hub, animal testing). Grammar Second conditional (If I saw a hungry dog, I would feed him) Speaking Asking and responding to hypothetical situations related to animals. (What would you do if you saw a spider on your bed?) Discussing arguments about Animal testing. Pronunciation Schwa in unstressed syllables. /ə/ a-ni-mal poi-son pre-da-tor “/s/- /z/- /iz/” sounds in regular plural nouns. Listening:Listening to identify speaker’s opinion Reading: Reading for gist about animal laws, protection and regulations	The student: Recognizes and explains the structure and hypothetical function of the Second Conditional 2. Formulates a structured opinion paragraph outline using the Second Conditional to address animal welfare situations 3. Demonstrating respect to others when sharing good practices to take care of the environment.	July 27th/30th

		Writing Opinion Paragraph Outline. Opinion Paragraph Language Functions Understanding animals' idioms in contexts
--	--	--	--	--

Cross-curricular theme: Environmental culture Competence: Participates in committees and brigades dedicated to the prevention, mitigation and attention to disasters caused by natural and anthropogenic phenomena occurring in their family, school and community.

Grade Competence: The student uses phrases to describe weather conditions through discussions and spontaneous talks.
 2. The student uses appropriate vocabulary in oral and written language to response basic processes about disaster risk reduction and emergency relevant to their immediate environment
 The student produces composition text that are related to weather and natural phenomena to write cause and effect essays.

Unit	Achievement Indicator	Content	Evaluation Criteria	Date
IV	Uses appropriate vocabulary, simple tenses, zero and first conditional when describing the weather conditions in oral and written language.	1. Vocabulary: Seasons (fall, spring, winter, summer, season activities). 2. Speaking Asking for and responding to weather conditions 3. Pronunciation Borrowing words, Tsunami, drought 4. Listening Understanding weather forecast from TV news and radio 5. Reading Understanding vocabulary in contexts. Making graphic organizer. Writing Cause and effect composition Clustering and mind map Language Functions Requesting and giving information about weather	The student: 1. Distinguishes the form and usage differences between the Zero and First Conditional and identifies vocabulary related to seasons and weather activities 2. Writes a coherent cause-and-effect composition regarding weather conditions using simple tenses and conditionals. 3. Shows responsibility and awareness when discussing the impacts of severe weather conditions	