The teacher introduces the structure of expressing possession using visual aids and examples on the board:

EXPRESSING POSSESSIONS

AFFIRMATIVE AND NEGATIVE

We use have or has to talk about things we own.

AFFIRMATIVE (POSITIVE)	NEGATIVE – HE / SHE (DOESN'T HAVE)	NEGATIVE – I / WE / THEY (DON'T HAVE)
I have ... I have a pencil. 	We use doesn't have with he or she to make negative sentences. He doesn't have a ruler. 	We use don't have with I, we or they to make negative sentences. I don't have an eraser.
He / She has ... He has a book. She has a pencil case.	She doesn't have a backpack. 	We don't have a ball.
We have ... / They have ... We have books. They have rulers.	He doesn't have = He does not have She doesn't have = She does not have	They don't have a pencil sharpener.
RULES TO REMEMBER - I → have - He / She → has - I / We / They → don't have - He / She → doesn't have	EXAMPLES - I have a book. - He has a pencil. - She doesn't have a ruler. - We don't have a ball. - They don't have a backpack. 	KEYWORDS (SCHOOL THINGS)         pencil book ruler eraser backpack pencil case ball pencil sharpener	Remember! Use have or has for positive. Use don't have or doesn't have for negative.

- ✓ Students repeat sentences (choral and individual repetition).
- ✓ The teacher checks comprehension by asking simple questions.
